ART & CULTURE MAGAZINE

Jenny Morgan has been both a cover of our print edition and our new Hyperreal book, and we are excited about her newest show, "All We Have Is Now," opening at Driscoll Babacock in NYC on May 14. Jenny has long been a favorite with our staff here, ever since we saw her last solo show at Driscoll back in 2013. The work is a mixture of all the styles that we like in painting, demonstrating both skill with almost psychedelic flashes, transformative figures, and a completely new take on the art of the portrait.

As the gallery notes, "This new series of paintings present amorphous, yet graphically stark figures rendered in a richly saturated prismatic array of colors. Centered on themes of life, death, and rebirth, Morgan's works question how we relate to our past and challenge us to live in the present." We can't wait to see the whole new body of work!
